

Fragment.menot Terms of Use

Last modified: March 8, 2017

This Terms of Use describes how we will collect, use, disclose and protect your Personal Information through the Fragment.menot service. The Company provides a platform for the trading of memories. We're continuing to improve service based on the memories you save on any online storage.

Collection of Personal Information

We may share User Content and your information (including but not limited to, information from cookies, log files, device identifiers, location data, and usage data) with affiliates.

If we sell or otherwise transfer part or the whole of Fragment.menot or our assets to another organization, your information such as name and email address, User Content and any other information collected through the Service may be among the items sold or transferred.

Use of Cookies and Usage Data

Traffic Data is collected by Fragment.menot and our third-party traffic analysis provider. We still use cookies if you don't have an account or have logged out of your account.

Please be aware that if your memories include personal or other sensitive information, that information will be among the data captured and transmitted to a third party.

Your use of our services gives us expansive royalty-free license to use anything you post that could be considered intellectual property.

We will collect your IP address, browser type, operating system, the referring web page, pages visited, location, your mobile carrier, device and application IDs, search terms, and cookie information.

This Terms of Use is only created for the speculative design project of Fragment.menot and is not legally binding.*
